

PURCHASE AREA DEVELOPMENT DISTRICT SEEKS REQUEST FOR QUALIFICATIONS FOR LEGAL COUNSEL

The Purchase Area Development District (PADD) is accepting letters of qualifications from attorneys interested in becoming our general counsel. The PADD is a multi-faceted governmental agency serving the human and social needs of the citizens and the development and management needs of the local governments of our eight-county region. The District is made up of 4 distinct internal departments:

- Community and Economic Development (including housing & business lending)
- Aging Services and Independent Living (including Medicaid Waiver)
- Workforce Development
- Finance and Administration

Additional information on the PADD can be found at www.purchaseadd.org.

The legal counsel for the PADD typically provides services in two principal areas: human resources management and federal and state programmatic and legal compliance. Other areas arise on an as needed basis. In recent years, the majority of counsel has been in the field of competitive procurement and human resources, including employment law, employee discipline, and employee separation.

Experienced attorneys and/or law firms who wish to be considered as potential service providers are asked to write, describing their human resources, governmental operations, and general legal expertise and experience; and proposed fee structure. The names and experience of all individual attorneys proposed to provide legal counsel to the PADD also should be identified.

Selection criteria is as follows:

Human Resources Experience---60%

Other Legal Experience---20%

Price---20%
